

By Phat

Here it comes, Villagers, just what you have been waiting for... the P.P.S.S. ... By this time you ought to be used to alphabetical names for things. ... The P.P.S.S. simply means Phat's Plan for Saving Sunshine. ... It's so simple I wonder no one thought of it before. ... It meets all the objections to Suntime and all plans to promote it. ... Suntime ended yesterday. ... Some people were glad, others sad. The P.P.S.S. is designed to please all factions. ... It will satisfy those who didn't like to get up at 7 when it was really only 6 and also those who hated to see that evening sun go down.

SIMPLICITY marks the plan. ... Here it is. ... Standard time in the a.m. and Village time in the p.m. ... How? ... Well, we wake up in the morning on Standard time. ... Come noon, we just skip that hour between 12 and 1 and call it 1 o'clock. ... So there we are on Village time. ... To take up the slack, along about 3 a.m. when everybody is supposed to be asleep anyway except the guy who drank too much coffee for dinner, we'll just slip back an hour and call it 2 a.m. ... Then we'll wake up on Standard time after going to bed on Village time.

NATURALLY, every great invention meets protests. ... They laughed at Newton, they snickered at Fulton, guffawed at Ameeche, pardon me, Bell, ... and so I expect to hear protests on this scheme. ... When I say the plan would gain an added hour of sleep each night, I can just hear them say: "Yes, and we'll lose an hour during the day."

Also: "If you skip that hour between 12 and 1, when do we eat lunch? You newspapermen don't keep regular hours, anyway, but we've got to eat when we work." ... Well, let's make the change at 2 p.m., then. ... Just skip the hour between 2 and 3. ... That would make the work day shorter by an hour.

ANOTHER objection from those people to whom I have broached the plan is that it will keep people too busy changing clocks twice a day. ... "Who wants to get up at 3 a.m. and set his clock back an hour, pardon me, set it ahead 11 hours?" was one objection. ... Well, we have a lot of inventive geniuses in town. ... Ralph Nesmith could probably devise a clock that would automatically change time at 3 a.m. and 3 p.m. ... He's authored a lot of other great inventions. ... And besides, speaking of re-setting watches, people are always changing their watches every time they go by a jewelry store. ... Most serious setback to the P.P.S.S. came from Mrs. G. ... When I told her about it, she put a hand on my brow and said: "Phat, do you feel all right or shall I call the men in white?"

DIGGING INTO that old cartoon that once contained delicious fish sent me from Seattle by Bert McGovern, regular winter visitor, and in which I now file my notes, I find several interesting items. ... This one should have been run at Christmas time. ... Of all the dogs I have owned my favorite was Oscar, a wire-hair, who was with us 12 years despite two arguments with automobiles. ... This particular note concerns his first Christmas. ... He was thoroughly domesticated at the time. ... It was very cold outside and the smudge pots were going when I brought in the Christmas tree. ... Oscar, in his canine mind, apparently thought: "Gee what a nice boss I have, he's bringing in trees to me to keep me from freezing" ... I stopped him just in time.

ANOTHER random note says to say something nice about the Kiddies matinee, made possible each week by Earle Strebe at the Plaza theatre. ... Holly Lash Visel and Roy Randolph put on the show. ... They have uncovered lots of local talent since starting the show. ... They pick the kids off the sidewalks about noon, take them in for rehearsal and at 2 p.m., put on a vaudeville show that is a knockout. ... Lois Lux helps with the music. ... Earle Strebe contributes to the show with some picture featuring a child star or of especial interest to the kids. ... The youngsters do all of the job—talent, property men, stage managers and even the emceeing task. ... It's a great idea and deserves support.

AS YOU ALL KNOW, I'm a nut for music and very cosmopolitan in my tastes. ... From Count Basie to Guy Lombardo and everything in the middle. ... In the middle, makes me think, are the western songs and that makes me think of Bill Pruitt down at the Thunderbird ranch. Pruitt decorates the mahogany for Frank Bogert at the ranch's lounge, but as soon as he slides one across, he slips into his guitar and puts out with western songs. And he knows them all except "Gal in Calico" and he said he'd have that one this week. ... And that number I've had in my collection for years is now No. 1 on the Hit Parade. ... The melody's the same but the words are different.

WHAT'S in a name? Graham Dexter, really, man, says plenty. ... After a long talk via telephone with a prospective buyer, he asked the man's name. ... "Wantland" was the reply.

Flower Sale For Veterans Great Success

Sales of forget-me-not flowers, the annual benefit for the Disabled American Veterans, on the streets and cafes of Palm Springs Saturday and Sunday, plus the sidewalk interviews conducted by Dick Joy, co-owner of radio station KCMJ, all tended to make the event one of the most successful conducted here, according to Doctor James E. Potter, commander of Palm Springs Chapter 66, of the DAV.

The sale of the little blue flowers started Saturday morning and at 2:15 p.m. impetus to the two-day campaign was given by Joy who stopped purchasers and interviewed them. Doctor Potter, who was scheduled to make a short talk over the moving mike on the sidewalk, was suddenly called away on an emergency call to Cathedral City.

Earle Strebe Now in Hotel Business

Earle Strebe of Palm Springs, who owns a string of theaters including two here, and Ray Olmstead, another theater man, have purchased the Navajo hotel at Big Bear, it was announced this week.

Strebe also owns a theater at the mountain resort.

On Trial

Tuthill Bound Over To Face Charges

Marvin J. Tuthill, accused of the New Years day murder in Cathedral City of Mrs. Charlotte Beverly, was bound over to the superior court Friday afternoon following his preliminary hearing in Justice of the Peace R. A. Moores court.

The defendant refused to testify. Arraigned against him during the hearing was Mrs. Ruby Beaver, nurse friend of the murder victim, the coroner and the deputy sheriffs, who investigated the shooting.

Tuthill is charged with shooting Mrs. Beverly through the head with a 22 caliber rifle being longed to Richard Beverly, 19-year-old son of the deceased. She is also the mother of a 16-year-old girl.

Civic Leaders Talk Back to Czar Bonelli

Liquor czar William G. Bonelli's tirade leveled against city councilmen here during a meeting of the state board of equalization in Sacramento last Friday morning saw civic leaders, churchmen and school authorities rear up and come back in no uncertain terms.

As chairman of the board, Bonelli declared that the city council was protesting too many applications for liquor licenses and that the state of California laws did not provide for local option. He also added city officials were attempting by their action to keep the present license holders from further competition.

AS BONELLI was talking in the board room were four delegates from Palm Springs. Chief of Police August Kettmann, City Attorney Roy Colgate and Councilmen Culver Nichols and Armand Turonnet. They were there to protest the granting of a license to Chart Incorporated. Despite Bonelli's statement no license was granted at the board meeting and further action was deferred until sometime after a projected personal trip of inspection by Bonelli to Palm Springs.

AMONG THOSE aroused to make a reply was Harry Harper, executive secretary of the chamber of commerce. First he pointed out that those establishments now operating in the Village were having a hard time of it to make both ends meet and with reference to the matter of "public convenience" as implied in Bonelli's statement, he had plenty to say.

"Convenience," exclaimed Harper, "ever since this season opened it is plainly evident that one doesn't have to fight his way to a bar in order to get a drink."

"PREVIOUSLY in the matter of granting licenses," continued Harper, "the state board of equalization has listened to the suggestions of the city council, civic organizations and others. Why," asked the secretary, "this sudden about face?"

Charley Burket, chairman of the high school board of trustees decried the issuance of additional on-sale liquor permits in this area.

"Some of our students have found it easy to buy intoxicants," said Burket. "With additional permits granted, the competition would become even keener and more unscrupulous operators would sell liquor to our high school people. I definitely believe," he added, "that our city officials know the picture well here."

"AND TALKING about local option," opined Earl Coffman, manager of the Desert Inn, "continued action by Bonelli as he outlined in talking to our representatives, will bring it about in this state. Last year," Coffman pointed out, "the city of San Diego, despite the protests of civic organizations, city council, school authorities and churches Bonelli saddled that coastal com-

Gems Stolen Last Month Recovered

Package Worth $5000 Received by Police Chief

Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann Sunday received a valuable package. It was worth $5,000 and came from Chief of Police Michael J. Godfrey of Hartford, Conn.

In the package, well wrapped and highly insured, were all of the gems stolen from a cottage occupied by Mrs. Helen Agnew at a well known local guest ranch.

In the presence of witnesses Chief Kettmann yesterday morning unwrapped the package and checked the jewels with the list given him by Mrs. Agnew. All of them were there.

In jail awaiting preliminary hearing next Friday at 9:30 a.m. on a charge of burglary, was Ned Rocco, 25, Rocco, a houseboy at the guest ranch, confessed, police say, to taking the gems early in December.

Western Air To Use Giant New Airplanes Here

Giant 44-passenger Skymaster planes will inaugurate major Los Angeles-to-the-desert service to and from Palm Springs on weekdays beginning Friday of this week, it was announced today by officials of the Western Air Lines here.

An invitation to the public to inspect the giant plane at the Palm Springs air base during its inaugural call on the Village Friday night was issued by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce and the Western Air Line heads as plans shaped up for an appropriate welcome for the giant airliners.

THE SKYMASTER will land here on its maiden flight at 6:40 p.m. Friday evening and during its stay at the field will be open to inspection by townspeople. This trim luxury ship, now in use on all the major airline flights in the nation, is the latest in airplane service equipment, according to William Ortwin, local manager of the Western Air Lines.

Skymasters will fly the shuttle run from Los Angeles to Palm Springs and return on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, making close connections going and coming with the San Francisco Skymasters which the WAL flies between Los Angeles and San Francisco in less than two hours.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the addition of the larger ships to the desert run brought praise from chamber of commerce and civic officials who heralded the action as a new expression of confidence in the future development of the great desert area.

In the new shuttle service, the

Another Warning to Check Checks Issued

Another warning was issued to Village businessmen by Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann today to be extra careful about accepting checks from strangers.

He said that there had been an influx of people cashing insufficient fund checks or forged checks.

Know the person for whom you cash a check or get proper identification, the chief told merchants and their staffs.

IN CUSTODY in Los Angeles with a "hold order" placed on him by local police was Donald D. Pettitt who is charged with passing two checks for $200 each,

Members of Hospital to Meet Jan. 16

Officials To Be Elected and Reports Heard on Thursday

Annual meeting of the Palm Springs Community hospital will be held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, members were reminded today.

The meeting will be held at the El Paseo theater, the city council chambers.

Cards have been sent out to all members of the Community hospital association.

OFFICERS will be elected, reports of the past year heard and plans for the new year made.

On October 21 the association signed a lease for the premises at Torney General hospital which they now occupy. In the nine months that the hospital has been in operation, it has supplied a much needed service for the Village and since that time has admitted almost 600 patients.

There have been almost 50 births since the hospital opened last March, approximately 200 minor and emergency operations, 60 major operations, and almost 500 x-rays and 860 laboratory tests.

THE STAFF consists of 27 doctors, 11 of them active members, six temporary members and ten courtesy members. Including nurses, technicians and non-professional employees, there are about 40 on the staff.

Mrs. Blanche Turonnet, chairman of the public relations committee of the hospital, in her report, pointed out that in order to set up the hospital as a working institution ... and keep it operating during the summer months, it became necessary to spend $17,000 on capital outlay and $19,000 for operating expenses.

"YOU CAN SEE that promoting this hospital and keeping it in operation has not been an easy task nor will it be for some time. We ask that your interest does not lag and that you will continue to give us your loyal support, so badly needed, she said in concluding her report.

The Community hospital is included in the Community Chest drive, now already under way.

Argument Ends in Stabbing

John Foshee Jr., 25, Palm Springs Negro, was in the Riverside county hospital recovering from two serious knife wounds inflicted by two white assailants Sunday evening at the corner of Amado road and Indian avenue.

According to police reports, an argument between the trio started in a nearby cafe and continued out into the street as Foshee left the restaurant followed by two unidentified white men.

The argument was again renewed at the corner of Amado and Indian when suddenly one of the white men whipped out a knife and stabbed the negro twice, once in the chest and again deeply in the stomach. The latter wound was the most serious and for a time Foshee's life was despaired of.

Rushed to the Palm Springs Community hospital the knife victim remained there until 3 a.m. Monday morning when he was transferred to the county hospital.

Standard

Palm Springs Again With Rest of State

Palm Springs changed its clocks yesterday and was back on standard time today.

There was little confusion as most Villagers turned their clocks up 11 hours before retiring Sunday night and others availed themselves of the chance of laughing at the clock Monday morning and taking an extra hour of sleep before changing the time back—or ahead—to standard time.

Local schools had little difficulty in the change. They have been, in effect, on standard time all along. Before Village time came in, the high school started at 8:30 a.m. Under Village time, the school started at 9:30 a.m., still 8:30 standard. So the shift made no difference there except that now 8:30, not 9:30, is the official time. The same condition prevailed in schools of the Desert District which also remained on standard time by merely changing the official hour of starting and stopping.

Elsewhere in town the situation was taken in stride.

Keep Bicycles Off Sidewalks Children Told

Parents were requested by Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann today to instruct their children NOT to ride bicycles on sidewalks.

Not only is it unsafe, he said, but it is contrary to city ordinances and unfair to pedestrians. He said that he had received several complaints from pedestrians who had been forced off the walks by scooting youngsters on bicycles and from one or two who had actually been knocked down by children on bicycles.

THE SAME traffic rules which apply to automobile traffic, apply to bicycles, the chief said.

They must keep on the right hand side of the road and give pedestrians the same rights motorists must.

At the same time it was pointed out that youngsters riding bicycles on the streets should be careful of traffic and not dart in and out or across at intersections without looking.

"IN GENERAL," he said, "act as if you had a heavy motor car in hand not a light bicycle. Pretend your driving a car and act accordingly."

Local police are in line with the state's proposed rigid campaign to improve traffic conditions. A continued campaign for safety will be maintained, Chief Kettmann said.

"The Golden Rule theory of driving as recently advocated in The Sun should be adopted by all drivers. Then we'd have safe traffic," he said. "At that, Palm Springs has had an excellent traffic record insofar as fatalities and injuries are concerned. Let's keep it that way."

Gets Away

Burglar Hops Fence and Eludes Capture

A burglar who invaded the cottage occupied by G. C. Gaudin at a local apartment-hotel escaped over a wall and fled when trapped by Jack Gorham, owner.

Gorham told police he would recognize the man if he saw him again and gave police an excellent description.

Gorham trapped the man coming out of the cottage. The intruder turned back into the cottage and fled through a rear door, escaping over a fence.

Two New Safety Patrols Formed

Success of the Safety Patrol at the Frances S. Stevens school has resulted in its extension to the Nellie N. Coffman junior high school and the Cahulla school.

Workers to Assist Drive Are Needed

Chairman Kirk Says All Village Needed in Campaign

Preparing for the beginning of the Community Chest drive this weekend, committee meetings are being scheduled this week by General Chairman Kenneth Kirk, who again emphasized the need for more workers to help out on the community campaign.

Last night, Kirk went to Cathedral City, where the chairman for that area, J. W. Kyle, held a committee meeting to organize and get under way that community's drive. Tomorrow, Wednesday, the following meetings are scheduled: 2 o'clock, the bars and restaurants committee; 3 o'clock, hotels and apartments division, and 4 o'clock, the business division. Kirk also stated that a committee to work on the campaign in Desert Hot Springs has been organized.

"OUR LIST of donors now numbers 85," said Kirk, "which isn't a bad start, but, of course, we are going to have to have hundreds more if this drive is to be successful. I can't stress the fact too strongly that we must have many workers if Palm Springs is to meet its Community Chest quota and I hope many civic minded residents and winter guests will pitch in and help us out."

On Saturday, when the drive officially begins, a parade, starting at 11 a.m., will form at the Union oil station on Amado road and will march down Palm Canyon drive to the Plaza. There official opening ceremonies will be held and the giant thermometer that will measure the campaign donations will be unveiled. The parade will be made up of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and high school students.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Talks Over Riverside Rally

Plans for the district meeting to be held at Riverside Thursday were discussed last night at a meeting of the auxiliary of the Palm Springs post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The meeting was held at the Fiesta House on the Desert Inn grounds following a dinner at the Chi Chi.

Box Cars Derailed in Accident Here

The two big engines at the rear huffed and puffed.

But the one up front didn't even hiccup.

As a result the box cars in the middle of the long train buckled and went off the tracks Saturday just west of the Palm Springs depot.

It was on the main line but there was plenty of side-tracks so traffic was not delayed and no one was hurt.

New Greyhound Depot Opened in Village

R. R. Dunlap, local Greyhound agent, was proud today.

His new depot near Andreas road on Indian avenue opened last weekend. It was built by Dunlap at a cost of around $15,000. Dunlap has the Greyhound franchise here.

Ample room for waiting passengers and a large baggage room are provided. There is also a fountain where light lunches and sandwiches will be served.

Moderate

Highest Temperature 74 and Lowest, 34

Moderate temperatures prevailed in Palm Springs over the weekend with a high of 74 and a low of 34.

All of Southern California was swept with a severe wind and the Village caught occasional blasts from the high wind raging through the pass.

Temperatures since last reported in The Sun:

TECHNICOLOR DREAM WEED

—Concluded—

The Toloache or Datura ceremony of the Cahuilla Indians has been described in great detail by Lucille Hooper in her monograph (University of California Press) on the Cahuilla Indians of the Palm Springs area. Using the facts presented therein, let's imagine that we are a young boy just becoming of age and ready to indulge in this dangerous and sometimes fatal puberty ceremony.

"I am a Cahuilla boy. I have just reached the age of manhood. So have several other young men in our village. Many months ago this date had been set by the tribal old men, and so we, the uninitiated, are led away from the village and isolated in a brush enclosure. Here we must remain for five days before the actual ceremony. Here, no one but the food-bringer, who comes twice a day, may see us. And during this time we can eat neither salt nor grease.

"WHILE WE ARE thus isolated, the old men have gone out into the desert and gathered Datura plants, which they call 'kiki-so-wil', and from these plants they have made a decoction. Then, for three straight nights they all dance until they are completely exhausted; on the last night, we are all brought out of our seclusion and back to the village. We are clad in arrow-weed skirts and we have eagle feathers in our hair. Forming a line, each one of us in turn is forced to drink some of this sacred liquid made from the Datura. The correct amount is varied with each of us, as determined by the medicine men, who estimate our respective physical conditions.

"Next we are told to dance wildly about the fire, and to sing and chant the songs we have been taught. I do this. My throat feels dry and parched; my forehead is hot. But I dance on. Very soon I begin to get dizzy. This feeling is probably intensified by the semi-fasting we had to submit to before the ceremony. The figures grouped about the fire begin to blur, coming into sharp focus for a few seconds and then fading into a mass of indistinct color. Shortly, I fall to the earth, weak and giddy. I feel hot all over, yet I don't perspire. I'm breathing fast now, in short spasmodic gasps. I can feel my heart pounding loudly in my chest.

"THE SHAPES around the fire swim before me, rising and floating without weight, ever changing form. Suddenly a huge rattlesnake, a flaming red serpent, glides out of the flames and toward me. Its mouth gapes wide, and yellow flames dart out at me. I cringe and it's gone. Now it's a giant lizard, crawling slowly but surely in my direction. I can see its long green claws sinking in the earth with each step. Its blue tail is switched from side to side as it moves. It comes closer . . . closer . . . then the flames leap up and devour it. I struggle to crawl away but in vain. Now it is I who float above the embers. My body seems like liquid. Up . . . up . . . I descend slowly, like a leaf in a breeze . . . swirling around . . . and around . . . then down . . . and back on the ground without a jolt. Waves of blue color cascade down upon me, gradually changing to purple as I slide away into space . . . an all-engulfing space. And I drop off into a deep profound slumber.

"While I have been envisioning all this, the other youths have fallen delirious, one by one, and have been dragged away into a corner to sleep the drug off. But the elders of the tribe continue

Local Chapter of P.E.O. Entertains Group From Indio

CHAPTER KV P.E.O. entertained at Luncheon members of Chapter HH Indio at the attractive early California-styled home of Mrs. Gordon Nicholson on North Patencia Road on January 8th. The tables were beautifully set on the spacious loggia overlooking the West patio and the delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Nicholson, hostess, Mrs. Josephine Sprague, Mrs. Faye Robinson and Mrs. Louise Harper.

It is to be remembered that Chapters HH Indio and KG Banning sponsored the organization of the local chapter of PEO a year ago this month. Guests included Mrs. Katherine Westerfield of Indio, Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Coachella and Mrs. Helen Vote of Thermal, all of Chapter HH. Mrs. Betty Wetherell, Chapter GR Osborn, Kansas. Dr. Lena Meaker, Chapter H Redondo Beach, and Mrs. Frances Peterson, Chapter GP, Pocatello, Idaho.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. DeRugh Brainard, President of Chapter KV. Next regular meeting will be a Founders' Day Program, celebrating the 78th Anniversary of P. E. O. and the First Birthday of Chapter KV, Palm Springs.

their wild singing and dancing, all through the night, repeating each song and dance three times. Then, at a signal, the medicine men suddenly dash into the center of the crealing and stamp out the glowing fire embers with their bare feet! The ceremony is concluded. Now we are men, fully prepared for the future, having received advice from our gods.

"TWENTY-FOUR HOURS later we begin to come to. Our heads throb and ache. Our bodies feel weak and bruised, as if we'd been beaten bodily. We feel depressed and morose and are easily irritated. One of us never does regain consciousness. The medicine man had over-estimated his endurance, and had given him too much of the decoction!"

Thus we conclude an imaginary account of how the Datura was used in the Toloache ceremony of the local Cahuilla Indians years ago. Other tribes and peoples used the Jimson for slightly different purposes. For instance, the Zuni's of New Mexico gave it to a person suffering from a broken limb, just before they set the bone; in this fashion, the drug acted as a simple general anesthesia. The Gabrieleno tribe of southern California used the plant not to obtain visions, but to become strong and to ensure good hunting; they also had the notion that it protected them from enemy arrows, from grizzly bears (now extinct in their area), and from rattlesnake bite.

Many students of the ancient Greeks believe that the same drug was widely used at the famous oracle of Delphi, where the priests collapsed in a fit and told all sorts of things they saw while in this "spell." The ancient Incan priests in Peru were definitely known to use the Datura to obtain ritual visions.

AN INTERESTING STORY is re-told by Vernon Quinn in his excellent book on Seeds. It seems that during the Bacon Rebellion in Virginia, during the colonial days, a group of soldiers were sent to quell the disturbance. Unknowingly, the cook for the group gathered a quantity of young Datura plants and cooked them up as greens. Fortunately, the plants were all quite young and cooked for a long time, or else the outcome would have been tragic indeed. However, for eleven days the soldiers were all temporarily insane, cutting mad capers and behaving like idiots, so the early chronicles tell us.

Thus it will be seen that the Technicolor Dream Weed, as I've termed it, is a fairly common wild plant of world-wide distribution, and potentially a very dangerous shrub. The curious would do well to leave it entirely alone and to forego any thoughts of experimenting with its dream-invoking drug stramonium, for lethal doses have far too often been taken in such innocent trials. And remember that even the Indian shamans, who were experienced in using the drug, even they made fatal errors. If you MUST have a Technicolor nightmare, go to the movies. At least in a theatre, you can be reasonably sure of coming out alive and uninjured. That isn't always the case with the Datura.

Cathedral City Roundup

Reported by MARY R. WOLSETH

Request for Street Work Sent County By Three Groups

The petition from the three organizations of Cathedral City: The Civic Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Women's Club, to the Riverside County Board of Supervisors is finally under way. In it they request that the supervisors take over more streets for maintenance and pave more streets this year, pointing out to them that the paved roads are more easily repaired after summer floods and that as of their promise of 1938 to pave two streets a year, the county of Riverside is sixteen streets behind schedule with a resultant accumulation of taxes from a vastly increased population.

That Cathedral City be placed on the list of communities requesting county zoning ordinances was also asked and that a grade along the highway as well as adjoining streets be established by the County Engineer after a permit is granted by the State authorizing them to do this was urged as an immediate necessity.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Linkletter have leased their Palm Springs home for three months and will occupy their penthouse above the Drug Store from February 1st. Mrs. Linkletter hopes to take an active part in village activities as she did when she ran the only dress shop in town. Mrs. Linkletter and her house guest Mrs. Allie Weber were luncheon guests of Mrs. Mary Wolseth last week.

Ahmed Rater says the second moonlight horseback ride to Magnesia Canon last week at the full moon was attended by fourteen riders from Cathedral and she asks that anyone interested in going next month will please see her for reservations. It costs only five dollars for everything.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Russell last Friday afternoon. The ladies sew from 1:30 to 2:30 after which a missionary program is given. The garments the ladies make are for children's welfare.

The Fathers and Sons Rotary banquet last Thursday night was well attended by Cathedral par-

"Sez I"

By MARY WOLSETH

"We need a Sanitation District" sez Carroll Waller "and I'm going to work on a proposition to buy a dump acceptable to Thunderbird Ranch, Rancho Mirage, Palm Village and Palm Desert which we can all own and form our district so that everybody will pay taxes to support it. Garbage fees are now being collected by Don Hamilton a quarter and a year in advance. We have paid Palm Springs for the use of their dump for the coming year, but they are soon going to be looking for another dumping ground and we'll be out of luck."

A public dumping ground is the only way we will prevent the use of the wide open spaces for the dumping of garbage by those who have trucks and trailers. It is also needed for the tree clippings and building refuse which the garbage collector will not take and has no room for. A Sanitation District is the only answer, sez I.

ents. Those reported to have gone from here were Jack Maddox and son Billy, Bill Hillery with Bob Hillery and Bob Higgins, George Patrick and son Gene, Scott Thompson and Gene and Marshall, Keith Smith and his father. The boys smacked their lips telling of the turkey dinner and said the program would be long remembered.

I want to tell you that every single human creature is the object of God's greatest interest and care, so that as long as one single shred of injustice exists on this globe there will be no peace. —C. Abayomi Cassels of Liberia, U.N. delegate.

Community Chest Drive Under Way In Cathedral City

The Community Chest drive is now under way in Cathedral City under the able generalship of Professor Kyle who has divided the community into districts with a corps of solicitors. Cathedral City has a quota of $2250, of which Mr. Walter Melrose has subscribed $1200. All the activities listed give benefit to Cathedral City even the Friendly Aid Society which will have the Youth Center under its management.

Desert Museum Notes

TUNDRA SCHEDULED. At 8 p.m. in the El Paseo Theatre, will be unreeled the unusual feature-length film "Tundra," a saga of the Alaskan wilderness. Telling the story of Man's battles against the elements, surviving against all odds, this beautifully photographed movie contains intimate glimpses of the Arctic wild life, of the plants of the tundra, and of the native peoples who inhabit that rugged terrain. The picture has a definite plot, and thus differs from the usual run of travel films. Doors open at 7:15.

HARRY REED SPEAKS. Before a capacity audience, Harry R. Reed, local photographer, last Saturday presented his new Kodachrome movies taken on his recent 13,000 mile trek up the Alaskan highway to the Arctic Circle. Assisted by his wife, who played recordings to form the background for the interesting talk, young Reed held the group spell-bound with his dazzling pictures of the Midnight Sun, of the mighty Yukon River, of Mount McKinley, of the Eskimo's home life, of the giant Moose and Caribou, and of the scenic splendor along the Canadian highway to Alaska.

EISENHOWER REPORT. A movie version of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's report to the nation of the battle of Europe, from our landings on Normandy to V-E Day, entitled "The True Glory," will be shown this Friday, January 17, as the next in the regular series of war orientation films being presented by the Museum. Last Friday the film, in color, was "Report From the Aleutians."

HARRY REED'S MOVIES. Harry Reed, local photographer, returned to the Village Saturday to show his exciting new color film of "Alaskan Adventure," showing the Alaskan Highway, Glaciers, northern game animals, the midnight sun, the Yukon river, and countless other thrilling scenes. Mr. Reed in the company of Mr. McCullagh of this city, made the six month photographic expedition nearly 13,000 miles in their pursuit of the unusual and spectacular in way of pictures. From Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, they followed the Alaskan Military Highway to Fairbanks. Then, on the Steese Highway, they finally reached the mighty Yukon River within the Arctic Circle. From here they went by boat to Ft. Yukon, the fur trading center of the Arctic, the home of the midnight sun. Here they photographed the native Indians and their various crafts. Then to the remote glacial country of the Wrangell ranges, to Matanuska Valley, and at last, to Mt. McKinley National Park, highest peak in North America. This unusual film offering, narrated by Mr. Reed himself and with musical background, will be shown at 8 p.m. in the El Paseo Theatre. Doors open at 7:15.

SCALY LIZARD ADDED. Newest addition to the little Museum's "zoo" is an adult Desert Scaly Lizard, captured by Mrs. Melvin Capper. This beautiful iridescent lizard is covered with long scales, and its belly is a gorgeous orange and blue metallic color. It is perfectly harmless and feeds upon insects, thus being beneficial to man.

Too many people are so world-minded that they don't understand their responsibilities to their own communities. — Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton, president of Wellesley college.

Gazoozit

By JILL NORRIS

Nineteen hundreded forty seven has now entered in full swing with lots of parties and plenty of celebrating during the two weeks vacation. There was a fine send off with our basketball team beating Elsinore 30-27. "Yippee!" Some of the rooting section that showed up to lend 'da boys moral support were—Chuck and Sandy, Ed Stinson, Betty Wright, Klug, Marlene Knowler, Art Jones, Bob Leinaw, Don Michael, Don Oke-man, Barbara Jones, Adele Woods, Audrey Bentson and Searls, Carol Burkett, Wilson, Dick Henson, Barbara and Bill Foster, Bob Dart, Diane Hellar, Barb Croft, the sophomore gang, Sally Robinson, Willie and lots of other kids, but memory fails me at this point.

The Christmas dance sponsored by the Juniors certainly attracted a lot of the old alumni, and of course the customary crowd was there tripping the light fantastic in time to the excellent music provided by the swing band. Seen here and there were Art Jones and Diane Hellar, J. O. and Shirley, Ed and Marilyn, Barbara Jones and Joe, Earl Ray and Bonnie Lou, Gillar Boyd and Bette Tarr, Joy Arakalian and Don McKinney, C. J. and Wilson, Carol Burkett and Cary, Okeman, Klug, Stinson, Jones, St. George, Delano and Chuck and Sandra.

CONI TILGHMAN went to Yosemite over Christmas vacation. New Years Eve she attended the Ahwahnee (that's what she said!) dinner dance with Bernie Doyle, former in-mate of P. S. H. S.

Speaking of Coni, she gave K. K. a beautiful watch for Christmas. He (K. K.) really must have been a good lil' boy all year 'cause he also got a super new radio, and an I. D. bracelet and just loads of other gifts. Sandra Veano won't have to walk on her hands any more or go barefooted now that she has five new pairs of shoes! Adele Woods got a new wrist watch and so did Barry Miller. All in all everyone had a wonderful Christmas.

SMALL NOTATION here that Dart had a fine Christmas Eve party and they all gathered up enough energy and ambition to go carolling and then to midnight mass. Arakalian and Leinaw, Larry Emerzian and Jackie Walker, strictly friendly (how does Larry rate when Delano can't even get to 1st base?) Delano and Bonnie Lou Wheeler, Billie Jo and Gunder were some of the attendants.

There was a hen-session (female gathering) at Jill's house. There to cackle out the gossip were Mable Potter, Dixie Smith, Elanne Purnell, Mary K. Mills, Vicki Matloff, Sandra Veano and her girl friend Dawnie Cobb. They stuffed themselves with food in between conversation and record playing. Being in a party spirit the gals decided to continue the party over at Elanne's house. There and enjoying the atmosphere were Nancy and Jim, Dixie and Don Carmichael, Bob Leinaw and DeLorse Roth, Gunder and Billie Jo Henry, Bob Flavin and Gen Dierenberger, Jill and Dick, Cootie and Mable, Elanne, Barry, Jack Pendrey, Dawnie Cobb, Vickie Matloff, Sandra and Chuck Mary K. Mills and Earl Ray, and Wally with Audrey Bolster.

DON'T MENTION mistle-toe to Marilyn, Jill, or Don DuBose!! It seems they hopped into Marilyn's little jeep in search of same and spent two hours looking. It was all in vain until one of them got the bright idea to go back and ask the directions all over again. (They should have turned left instead of right!!) So they gave up entirely and spent a dime for the tricky stuff. (They're just as happy as if they were normal!)

Great news awaited the student body when Sally and Don once more decided to drag the ole ball and chain, in other words they are going steady again. Elanne Purnell and Freddie are also going steady. Nancy Ehler is still on the steady list along with Lopez and Arlene.

Barbara Jones gave a wonderful New Year's Eve party. Everyone had a hilarious time and everyone means — Betty Wright, Adele Woods, Ralph Woodward, Barbara and Joey, Nancy and Jim, Sandra and Chuck, Barry and Jill, Jack Pendrey, Anne Mills, Mickey, Mable Potter, Dixie, Smith and Mary K. Mills.

AT THE SHOW New Year's Eve were ye local yocals—Mildred Potter, Paula K., Jimmie Flynn, Bob Robb, Bonnie Lou, Marlene, Selma and Alma Jones, Chuck and Sandy, Jill and Barry, Dixie, Mary K., Dick Doro, Wally Krysher, Shorty Gilbert, Joe Sandeffer, and Cheri Mashburn, also a few disgusted adults who didn't approve of the Jr. Hi gang jumping from the balcony! What's that old saying, "Simple things to amuse simple people?"

There was a fine ole basketball game between the Alumni and the P. S. team. The lineup as near as I can remember is—Alumni: Joe Brummit, Loren Rude, Art Jones, Larry Emerzian, Smitty, Joe Sandeffer, Bob Bell, P. S.: Bob Jones, Don Whitehead, Don Williams, Jay Holderman, Humberto Lopez, Ed Wills, Tom Archer. The Alumni won by 3 points. The spectators were Nor-man Maybrey, Diane Hellar, Sally Robinson, Barbara Croft, Joy Arakalian, Barbara Emeigh, J. O., Leinaw, Delano, Dart, Carol Burkett and Wilson.

ABSENT FOR AWHILE is Barbara Beeton who is in Idaho and LeLo who is in India. Let's hope they both return soon.

Marilyn and Ed have come to a parting of the ways. Dick Doro and Sally Krysher have new hair-do's that are stunning. Wasn't it clever of them to get all dolled up for the senior formal? Oh, well, children must play!

DuBose's "coffin on wheels" really adds a certain glamour to the school. Anyway it keeps people guessing what makes it tick, what there is of it, that is. Taking an inventory I came to the conclusion that maybe a motor and four wheels could be classified as a-er-um-a-oh, well a horse-less carriage!!

ANOTHER PARTY or should I say fudge-fest was held at Jill's house. Everything was fine only there were too many cooks trying to brew the mess they concocted. Couldn't have been too bad though, they all ate it and no one passed out. The would-be-Chefs were—Mable minus Noel, Wally Krysher, Dick Doro, Mary K., Earl Day, Don Carmichael, Jack, Dixie, and Sandra with Chuck Stone.

Another informal gathering that did everything from playing baseball to golfing at ye miniature golf course was Dixie and Bob Sutton, Bob Grayham and Jill, Mary, Wally, Chuck and Sandy, Don and lots of other people who added their sparkling personalities. (Hubba-Hubba are both of these Bobs cute!!)

JOAN HENDERSON and Red are still going steady. Red has a broken arm but Joan makes a fine nurse so I guess he is not going to suffer much.

And that about completes the Gazoozit for this week. Only remember don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today! Those FINAL EXAMS are coming!

Two Village Youths Last to See Upper Tramway Terminal in 1946 And the First to See Site in 1947

(NOTE: Last year three local boys climbed to Round Valley, on the top of the San Jacinto mountains, to see 1946 in. This year, two of these same lads, Dick Raun and Ted Lotz, took the same trip to welcome in 1947. The following account of the trip, written by young Raun and edited by Lloyd Mason Smith of the Desert Museum, tells of the gruelling climb.—Ed.)

We left Fern Valley near Idyllwild at 7 in the morning, on December 30, 1946. It was bitterly cold, and there were patches of snow and ice along the trail. Off to our left we could see snow blowing off the top of Marion Mountain, almost like smoke. The icy wind kept us from resting for any length of time and from taking many pictures with our cameras. Above us we could gaze up at the snow covered cliffs of Tahquitz Peak.

By 11:45 that morning we had finally reached the top of the Devil's Slide. Our feet were so cold that we had to stop and build a fire, in nearly three feet of snow, to thaw them out. After an hour of warming our feet and eating our lunch, we continued on our way, going slightly downhill through Skunk Cabbage Meadow. We had come three miles already, and now we had three more across the meadow to Willow Creek. Two feet of snow covered the entire area.

FROM WILLOW CREEK we climbed through a foot of snow on the south slope to reach Hidden Lake where, on the other side of the ridge, we found the snow had increased to nearly three feet in depth. Little Hidden Lake was frozen solid, just as we had found it last New Year's. It was getting dark, and from Desert View, on the brink of a 3,000 foot cliff at the edge of Hidden Lake, we could look down on Palm Springs (7,500 feet below us) and see the reddish glow of the setting sun on the Little San Bernardino Mountains beyond.

Sinking almost to our knees with every step in the deep snow, we floundered on up the north slope above Long Valley. By this time it was dark, and we had to rely upon our flashlights to find the trail. Once we lost our course, just as we had last year, and as before, after much wandering, finally located it again. It wasn't until 6:30 that night that we reached Round Valley, utterly exhausted and with freezing feet. We lost no time in getting into the small shelter cabin there. With considerable effort we managed to close the two large openings on either side of the fireplace, using a poncho and the crude door we had made on the last trip. Soon we had built a blazing fire from pine branches we found within the cabin, and the cheery heat and warm light heightened our spirits. No late hours that night. We crawled into our sleeping bags, still dressed in several layers of clothes. Since our canteens were frozen, we had no water. We looked at our thermometer once that night, at 10:30, and saw that the mercury registered 10 above zero!

NEXT MORNING, at 8:45, the temperature was still only 18 degrees above. We hurriedly ate breakfast. The sky was clear and cloudless, but a strong wind was blowing loose snow in through the cracks of the cabin. Most of this second day, December 31, we spent inside the cabin, except for a few necessary chores such as getting more fire-wood and chopping through ice and snow to get water, which we had to set beside the fire to keep from freezing. Outside, below the cabin, the 9,000 foot valley was blanketed with over three feet of snow, and the wind, sweeping unhindered across this broad meadow, had carved the banks into strange shapes of erosion, like a sculpturer. Above us we could see San Jacinto and Jean Peaks, the scattered pines near their tops now heavily laden with snow. It was out of the question to even attempt climbing either peak, even though we had planned on doing so.

That night, New Year's Eve, we crawled into our sleeping bags early, and before a blazing fire, the wind whistling through the chinks in the walls, we slept 1947 in. All that day the temperature had not risen above 25 degrees!

WE STARTED OFF the New Year next day by trying unsuccessfully to toboggan on the loose snow, and then decided to return to Idyllwild a day earlier than scheduled because of the inadvisability of trying to climb San Jacinto Peak. Our extra food we added to our cache of previous trips, and started on our way again with lightened loads. Along the trail in several places we found that our packed footprints, made on the ascent, had been since carved around by the wind, and now stood an inch or so above the surface. In other places, our trail had been completely erased.

From a distance we took pictures of the tramway terminus, where on our last hike in September, we had found the engineers had blasted away rock and cut down some trees, leaving one tree in the center of the gap with a flag on it. This landmark made the site easy to spot, even in deep snow. At Hidden Lake we again paused to take pictures of Palm Springs from Desert View. From here down to Willow Creek we made good time, but the uphill stretch to the Devil's Slide trail was very tiring, even though the snow was hard and not too deep.

STARTING DOWN the last three miles of our trip, we found our route icy and covered with loose snow slides and piles of icicles from the overhanging tree limbs. In many places the going was dangerous and of necessity very slow. We were taking no chances. Below us, along the upper portion of Strawberry Creek, we could hear several coyotes yapping excitedly. Perhaps they had detected our presence.

As the sun went down behind a cloud-bank on the horizon, the whole mountainside blazed up a reddish orange, a fitting conclusion to our three day trek. Walking the last mile and a half in darkness, we finally reached Idyllwild at 6:30, the night of January 1, 1947, with quite sore feet and dim flashlights. We had been the last in 1946 to visit the tramway site, and the first in 1947, just as we had the previous New Year's.

I think we might perhaps go back into the more speculative stocks again, but be sure to get out within a few years because the next crash will make 1929 look like a piker.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15

The ranch buildings, designed by Gordon Kaufmann, are of typical rambling early California ranch-type architecture, with the added features of large, full length windows and spacious rooms. Thunderbird Ranch is a desert resort as nearly perfect as can be made.

LOCATED JUST NINE MILES EAST OF PALM SPRINGS

BEST WISHES

JANUARY 15

His wife, Janice, listen to Cowboy Bill in the colorful Western bar at the ranch. The bar is typical, yet highlight the Western at Thunderbird Ranch.

Here is the ranch pool where one can enjoy sun-lazing at its best. It is beautiful as well as practical. It's in an enclosed patio near the dining room, so guests may have meals and refreshments served there and enjoy the full day's sun.

WISHES

Thunderbird Ranch is run as an exclusive club for members and guests only. Away from traffic and crowds, it is near enough to visit interesting shops, theatres and clubs of the Village. Over 600 acres in size, the ranch has plenty of room to "stretch"—with superb views in every direction. Beside the ranch are corrals, barns, rodeo arena—with a string of horses. Truly—this is Western life at its best!

"Regulars" Return
To Villa Hermosa
For Another Story

Back at Villa Hermosa for another extended stay from Pittsburgh is Mrs. Edgar Kaufmann. She will be joined here later by her husband. They are awaiting the completion of their newly built home here, and will move in to remain on the desert for the rest of the season.

Bud Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Small, is spending week-ends here with his parents. Young Mr. Small, like his father is a motion picture producer in Hollywood. He is associated with the Bull Dog Drummond series. The elder Mr. Small now is working on the story of Rudolph Valentino's life, which will go before the cameras next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lend, who are enjoying a mid-season sojourn at Villa Hermosa, gave a party this week to mark the host's birthday. Among those present was Roland Reed, who heads the production company bearing his name in Culver City. He also is stopping at Villa Hermosa.

RETURNING for their second visit this season, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Colby, of Beverly Hills, are spending all their days by the pool at Villa Hermosa. They made the trip to Palm Springs especially to acquire a desert bronze shade, as they are leaving for New York later this month and wanted their eastern friends to see the beautiful golden tan. They will devote this eastern trip expressly to attending the opera and theatre productions.

The Chicago contingent here is growing with the addition of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Granata to the list of residents from that city now living at Villa Hermosa for extended stays in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Appel, of New York, are making their headquarters at the smart apartment. Later this month their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Snowner will come to Palm Springs. The latter couple has rented a house on Chino drive for their visit.

Looks Like Wife
Of Sun Reporter

From driving a tank in the European theater of operation Sam Hamlin, wounded ex-serviceman, built a roadway of success in civilian life paved with the sale of blouses—women's shirts so to speak.

Today, almost two years since his discharge from the service, Hamlin was resting at Horace Heidt's swanky Lone Palm Hotel from the arduous duties of directing the Cathy-Lee Blouses, manufacturing company of New York City. During the past 12 months he said the company, of which he is president, sold $3,000,000 worth of blouses, and that's a lot of blouses in even the Javanese language, ex-tank driver Hamlin said.

BORN IN NEW YORK city, when he appeared before the classification officer back in 1941, he was asked what he did for a living. Hamlin replied: "I handle silk."

"Put him in the tank corps," was the decision of the classification officer. And that's when life really became tough, Hamlin said. But in spite of it all he made sergeant in a "tough man's outfit" by the time discharge day rolled around.

"I don't sell blouses," declared Hamlin when asked what he attributed his success to, "I help the buyer buy them. In other words," exclaimed Hamlin, "I used to be in the retail business and I place myself in the buyer's shoes."

GOING BACK to New York City Hamlin said he was going to prepare to open a manufacturing division of his company on the Pacific Coast and at the same time told the reporter he was going to send him a $75. sample of the blouses he sells, so he would personally know the kind of merchandise he handles.

Just as foolish as the old legend that all newspapermen were bums is the more recent practice of regarding every eccentric performance in Hollywood as typical of the entire Hollywood community.

—Byron Price, chairman Association of Motion Picture Producers.

VENETIAN BLINDS

KING AND QUEEN—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bogert fasten their eyes on the majestic snow covered San Jacinto and Son Gorgonio Peaks as they dream about the completed Thunderbird Ranch. Already finished and opening January 15, is the lounge and hotel which will accommodate 45 guests. (Photo by Desert Camera Shop.)

which will be called the Thunderbird Settlement.

ALREADY THE HOTEL is booked to capacity for the season and the sale of home sites, each an acre in the first parcel opened, has been quietly going on for sometime.

But there is more to Thunderbird than sand, buildings, mountains and the sale of home sites. Wrapped up in its back ground, is the 17-year-old dream of Raymond Cree, who never once abandoned his original scheme of making that land into the site which will henceforth be known as Thunderbird.

CREE BOUGHT the property 17 years ago from the Southern Pacific Railway. It consisted of all of section 11. From that moment on, Cree had only one thought in mind—to see the construction of a guest ranch there and at last he is seeing his dream come true.

After Cree bought the property, he tried to interest local capital in financing the guest ranch and was apparently unsuccessful.

Cree then decided to go to New York to see what could be done about financing the project but the crash of 1929 dashed his hopes and he returned to Palm Springs.

MEANWHILE Frank Bogert came to Palm Springs and for a time managed the stables at the Deep Well Ranch. Later he moved to Smoke Tree and in 1931 took over the operation of Norman's stables. During the years of 1933 and 1934 Bogert became the publicity director of the El Mirador and really learned the art of publicity and picture taking. Then in succession he managed Trav Roger's Stables, became secretary of the Chamber of Commerce in 1938 and during the summer of 1939 and 1941 managed the Circus Club at Atherton, near San Francisco.

Along came Pearl Harbor and in 1942 Bogert was in the navy. This business occupied his full attention until 1945. He emerged from the service as a lieutenant-commander.

ABSENCE makes the heart grow fonder the saying goes, and distance made the desert even more enchanting. Bogert made friends in the service. He met other people in his travels and he talked about the desert and Palm Springs. He also remembered that tract of land which Cree had set his heart on as the site of a guest ranch.

Two years ago, while still in uniform, Lieutenant Bogert brought some friends down for a visit and showed them the present sight of Thunderbird. The group talked to Raymond Cree and Section 11 was purchased.

OUT OF THE NAVY in 1945, the ex-naval veteran set about gathering all of the loose ends which had as its center the creation of Thunderbird Ranch. A corporation had been formed. Among those in the organization are Paul M. Browne, retired Wyoming cattleman. He is the president of Thunderbird. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jason of Atherton, Robert S. McDonald, former navy pilot, and William G. Gilmore of San Francisco are all members of the board of directors. J. O. Edy is said to be one of the vice presidents.

Bogert and his family moved out to Thunderbird just as soon as their house was completed. He married the former Mrs. Janice Bibb back in 1940 and they are the parents of two lovely children, Denny 5 and Cindy 3.

From Head to Toe

By BARBARA K. SCHILLY

Have you noticed the wonderful new prints that are beginning to appear?

And welcome news it is... for we find that many women have felt hesitant to wear much in printed dresses for the reason that they did not consider them as smart or as long lived as a monotone dress. However, now with some of the startlingly new patterns that are being offered, undoubtedly the popularity of figured material will soar.

Although the perennial popular flower design prints are still, and probably always will be, very modish... the geometrical pattern is really the one that is receiving the attention. More startling yet is the three dimensional print, which is difficult to describe except to say that it is extremely good looking and due to color and design seems to stand out instead of appearing flat. The effect is somewhat the same as if viewing the cloth through a stereoscope.

THERE ARE OF COURSE novelty prints, which have their comings and goings and the way we feel about it... it is mostly goings. We've a feeling that pur-chasers of "I Love You I Love You I Love You" print dresses or of a peasant skirt scrawled all over with "Mexico Mexico Mexico" have grown a little tired of them and are a bit regretful of their purchases.

However, there are bold prints, which even though somewhat loud, are of such good design that repetition in wearing does not grow tiresome. This all would be up to the individual.

Of course, now that silks are once again on the market, a print dress is almost a necessity for every woman... at least that is a very good excuse for a new purchase. What could possibly be nicer for wear now under fur coats, and later in Spring, than one of the new designs printed on our so long missed fine silk.

Palm Springs is of course, perfectly suited for print wear the year round... and for "big city wear" it is not at all too early to wear dark background figured material. Then... our idea of the ideal dress is the printed dress that is neither light nor dark and which serves well all through the year from the holiday season to the beginning of fall.

Educational institutions have been more than compensated for their troubles by the contributions which veterans make to the educational program. The veteran has a seriousness of purpose and a willingness to study and learn which sets a high standard for the entire student body.

Miss MacMurray Now Manager at El Irisado

El Irisado is now under the management of Mary MacMurray it was announced yesterday by G. Burkland. Miss MacMurray was the popular manager of the Desert Retreat and last season of Casas del Monte. She has a large following of winter visitors and before assuming her new duties took a short promotional trip. She reports 100% occupancy and that all indications point to a busy season.

Mrs. Burkland is going back east to spend a few months with her parents.

In the keys and piano action of a standard type of instrument, there are at least 9,000 parts consisting of many varieties of high quality wood, iron, steel, copper, brass, ivory, plastics, cotton, glue, resins, etc.

Doing the Village

with
Moya Henderson

Seeing Bill Smith in town the other day brought to mind an incident that happened over ten years ago, 1934 to be exact. Bill stopped in at what was then Patterson's Drug store for his morning cup of coffee and left his car parked outside under the protecting eye of Chief of Police Bill Seaton.

When Bill came out and climbed into his trusty flivver there seemed to be quite a group of local merchants gathered about. Just about then one of those screaming types of bombs went off with Bill nearly flying through the roof of the car and Bill Seaton still standing there looking very innocent and concerned.

There'll be lots of swaying couples when rumbas are played at the Lions' club dinner dance next week. Quite a little group has formed, and with the help of Roy Randolph, go through their paces every Thursday at the Palm House. After an hours lesson they adjourn to the Ranchero Room for more dancing and dining. The Al Weingartens, Harold Wests, Earl Houghs, Earl Neels and Hutch Mosely's are among those studying the South American rhythms. Here and there about the room were the Wall Spaldings, the Kenny Pauls, Dick Paul, and the Johnny Boyles.

THE GREY LADY CORPS met at the home of Mrs. Lauritz Hansen to make plans for the remainder of the season. They hope to entertain hospitalized patients from nearby points here on the desert. Mrs. Hansen is chairman of the group.

Here and there about town—Nan and Ed Gooden were down Sunday. They're now residents of Riverside.

Ruth and Ken DuBose are sporting a handsome new car. Ruth and Ernie Dunlevie having a good time at the Doll House Tuesday evening. Beth Scott enjoying a leisurely lunch on the outdoor terrace at the Tennis Club. Down below on the courts Harry Reid was getting a workout. Walter Henkle down for the weekend to collect his wife who's been vacationing. They had a wonderful evening at the Doll flights will be timed so that week-enders can arrive Friday night and depart Sunday night. There will also be a roundtrip on Saturday nights.

The DC-4 shuttle will leave Los Angeles Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 5:45, arriving here fifty minutes later. Return flights will leave here at 7:00 p.m. and reach Los Angeles at 7:55. Close connections going and coming will be made with Western Air's San Francisco Sky-masters, which fly from Los Angeles to the bay city in less than two hours.

WITH INAUGURATION of the new flights, Palm Springs will become the first town of its size in the U.S. to have four-engined air shuttle service, Western Air officials believe.

The new DC-4 shuttle will supplement the two-engined service that Western Air has been operating between here and Los Angeles. Due to various schedule changes, Flight 41, presently operating between Palm Springs and Los Angeles, will be cancelled January 16 to be replaced immediately by a new 21-passenger flight serving Palm Springs and the Imperial Valley.

The new flight will leave Los Angeles at 11:30 a.m., arriving here at 12:25 daily and at Imperial Valley at 1:20. Return flight will leave Imperial Valley at 1:45 p.m., arriving here at 2:35 and in Los Angeles at 3:35. This service will provide close connections to and from Salt Lake and Denver.

Former Actor Held in Petty Theft Case

John J. Rockford, 57, was sentenced to five days in county jail on a petty theft charge. He was arrested by Patrolman Jim Maynard Friday night as he emerged from a parked car. Rockford said he was a former actor.

House Saturday with the Earl Houghs.

MEMBERS of the Catholic choir adjourned to Marcos' cafe in Banning Thursday where they were entertained with Mexican songs and Mexican dishes.

Mrs. Madge Holderman, city public health nurse, who is always ready with a helping hand for others needed a helping hand herself Sunday night when her house became engulfed with smoke. The Palm Springs fire department rushed out and discovered the disturbance in a stove pipe before any fire started.

Rotarians and Boy Scouts enjoyed a turkey dinner together Thursday evening with the Rotarians playing hosts to the boys at the high school.

Tax Notes

By EDWARD J. NELISSEN

EMPLOYER OR INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR?

You may often be faced with this problem in connection with withholding taxes from wages, deducting and paying Social Security taxes and compensation insurance.

Generally, the relation of employer-employee exists if the person for whom services are performed has the right to control and direct the individual who performs the services, not only as to the result to be accomplished but also as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished. It is not necessary that the employer actually direct or control the manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient if he has the right to do so.

WAGES PAID covering the following services are not subject to withholding and Social Security taxes:

Agricultural labor
Domestic service
Casual labor.

Sometimes an employee may be employed in work subject to the withholding and Social Security taxes and also in work not subject by the same employer. In that case the rule is that if one-half or more of the work performed is subject to the taxes then all of the wages paid to that particular employee are subject to the taxes.

Officers of a corporation are employees and salaries received by them are subject to withholding and Social Security taxes.

Physicians, lawyers, dentists, public accountants, public stenographers and others who follow an independent trade, business or profession are independent contractors and not employees.

It is in connection with independent contractors that most of the problem arises. The laws, regulations and interpretations are so varied that no general rule can be given.

One example is that of a night club owner who employs an entertainer or group of entertainers. Entertainers generally follow an independent profession and since they have heavy expenditures in connection with their work, most entertainers will insist that they are independent contractors and not employees and that therefore no withholding and social security taxes should be deducted from their remuneration. However the commissioner of internal revenue has ruled that entertainers are employees unless their engagement is for six weeks or less and then only if they are not under a "Form B" union contract.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE are associates of a real estate office. They may or may not be independent contractors, depending on the manner in which their services

More Publicity Is Coming to Village In Magazine Story

Holiday Magazine's issue of Feb. 19 will carry a beautiful colored photograph of a spot in Palm Springs giving much new publicity to the Village.

The shot, entitled one of the entrancing places in Palm Springs, shows the Tennis club pool surrounded by guests.

A representative of Holiday was in Palm Springs last week-end with an advance copy of the magazine.

Recently the Saturday Evening Post carried a story of the date industry in Coachella valley which attracted much attention.

Federalists To Meet Thursday

World Federalists will hold their regular weekly meeting Thursday evening, January 16, 7:00 p.m., in the chamber of commerce rooms.

This will be their first regular meeting since the holiday adjournment and will be featured by a panel discussion on the subject "Must We Fight Russia."

The time for last week's meeting was given over to the school forum series which all World Federalists attended, the subject at that forum being particularly approved by the Federalists, world peace, which was discussed by a group of educators from various California universities.

The public is welcomed and urged to attend, not only for the panel discussion but also for the general discussion and question and answer period which follows the main feature of the evening.

are performed and the manner in which they receive their remuneration from the operator of the office.

The wisest course is to obtain competent counsel on the subject because penalties are severe.

The employer is partly protected if on or before February 15th of each year he files Forms 1099, information returns covering payments of fees, salaries, wages, commissions and bonuses of $500 or more not subject to withholding. If the employee then pays the tax due, the employer is at least relieved of that liability but he is still liable for penalties for failure to withhold as well as for Federal Old Age and State Unemployment taxes and the penalties for failure to pay these taxes when due.

According to Josephus, Jerusalem once had a population of more than 1,000,000.

UNDER-ROCK POST OFFICE

Before Europeans lived at the Cape of Good Hope, letters were left for passing ships under a rock which is now in the walls of the Cape Town post office.
